Cecil Adkins strums his bass viol and waits to go on the air as part of a three-man combo.

The writers get into the act, too. Glen Bowker, Burt McMillan and Charlie Watson take a look at the wire copy while Bev Copeland mans the typewriter. Bowker and McMillan were student co-ordinators for the writers.

Council names Nancy Jones to Ma-ie Day chairmanship

Six top appointments of the year were made Wednesday afternoon at the regular Student Council meeting.

Nancy Jones was named over-all chairman of Ma-ie Day. Committee heads include Dick Beem, dance; Ray Hampton, parade; Syntha Judd, skits; Joan Larkin, publicity, and Pat Livingston, breakfast.

Ma-ie Day plans

The chairmen will choose their committee members at the next Council meeting. Further Ma-ie Day plans will be discussed then.

Other Council business included the nomination and approval of candidates for the freshman-junior election next Wednesday. All petitions were due in the Dean of Students' office by 3 p. m. Wednesday.

Bookstore opens early

Harold Sage reported that the bookstore will continue to open at 7:45 a. m. for students with 8 a. m. classes. Bookstore Manager Ben Koenig stressed that this is a trial period to see if students buy school supplies rather than candy, cigarettes and magazines.

Bob Keim suggested that night school students be informed of university parking rules. Hay Hampton was named to get printed information to the night classes.

Bail welcomes safety group at meet today

President Milo Bail of OU will welcome the members of an industrial safety course, jointly sponsored by the university and the Omaha Safety Council, at the initial session this afternoon. The course will continue through tomorrow.

Dr. J. L. Rosenstein, Loyola University of Chicago, will be the speaker at the three sessions. Included in the lectures will be two films made by the speaker entitled, "Human Factors in Safety."

Madden, Step nab debate wins

Debaters Gene Step and John Madden carried the laurels for the OU debate team in the Midwest "Rosebowl" Debate Tournament at St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn., March 1, 2 and 3. Madden and Step placed 24th out of 60 teams entered.

The OU team won four out of eight debates against stiff competition including Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern, and St. Olaf's College.

The second OU team of Ralph Selby and Jerry Roistein lost out completely, winning only three and losing five debates.

OU placed no teams in the quarter-finals. Northwestern and Minnesota Universities did place in the semi and quarter-finals.

The Midwestern tourney was only a step toward the West Point Debate Tournament at West Point Military Academy, N. Y.

Duncan directs OU orchestra for Sunday afternoon Joslyn concert

Richard E. Duncan will direct the Omaha U Symphony Orchestra in a 2:30 concert next Sunday afternoon at the Joslyn Memorial Concert Hall.

The orchestra will open the program with Mozart's "Symphony No. 36." Lewis Kirke, oboist, will play "Concerto for Oboe and Strings," by Cimarosa.

A special feature of the concert will be the presentation of "The Plow," a suite for orchestra. The plot for the number was taken from a government film. Virgil Thomson, the composer, added the background music and divided the suite into five parts: prologue, pastorella, "Deep Forest."

Nine students to vie in election

Four freshman women and five junior men have filed petitions for Student Council posts.

One student from each group will be elected as his class Council representative in the election next Wednesday. Students running for office include Joan Ebert, Donna Miller, Sally Penny and Jean Sal-laday, freshmen, and Harley Beber, Dick Beem, Jim Bourne, Howard Byram and Don Sar-rooian, juniors.

Enamel artist speaks at convo, Coffee Hour

"Any art student graduating from college or university must first of all sell himself and his work to the people of his home town."

That was the advice given Tuesday morning by Edward H. Winter, Cleveland uitresus enamel artist.

The lecturer included in his talk on "Fine Arts and Business," two sound films and a series of color slides showing the artist at work, as well as many of his art pieces.

OU students raid KBON air waves

Radio writing class prepares all news; Tom Tom talent has own half-hour show

By Charlotte Weinberg

Radio Station KBON was invaded last Wednesday at 6:30 in the morning. Eighteen hours later, the persistent "Invaders" left the studio and so ended the fourth Annual KBON Day.

Senior fees fall due beginning March 14

All seniors must pay their class assessment fees next Wednesday, Thursday or Friday, Class President Willis Brown has announced. At least 125 students must pay their assessments or no senior activities will be held this year, he added.

Students may pay the $5.00 fee in the ticket office between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Journalism and radio students handled controls, spun disc, read and wrote news on both FM and regular radio, and pounded out spot announcements.

Highlight of the day's operator was the half hour live talent show broadcast at 1:30 p. m. The "Irvin-aires", Ruth Capps, Bob Cahill, Cecil Atkins, Bill Fitzsimmons, Jack Borudess, John Sterb and Irv Jones were among those who participated in the musical revue emceed by Johnny Marshall and Jim McPherson and produced by Jack Katz.

Staff praises students

From early morning on, OU'ers got plenty of plugs on the air from regular station staffers and, in general, things hummed along smoothly. However, the long day did provide a few smiles.

Don Perazzo introduced Marilyn Sibert on his 1490 Dude Ranch thushly: "Here's a cute cowgirl from Omaha U. She's wearing a ten gallon hat, white blouse, big red bow and cowboy boots. "Early-bird newswriters Burt McMillan, Cahrlie Watson, Glen Bowker and Daryll Eklund looked into the studio amazed, Marilyn had on a sweater and skirt . . . and bobby sox.

Assisting on the afternoon "Hello Beautiful" show, Jack Katz read postcards from listeners who had merchandise to sell. "Here's a lady who has a size 18 rose colored dress for sale." "Mmmm," he continued, "that's a nice size—like to see the lady who wears it."

Record racks raided

Students quickly found the record library and just about everybody helped out by scheduling their favorite platters for various KBON disc shows.

Newswriters Barbara Magnusen, Charlotte Weinberg and Bev Copeland got onto the air for exactly 30 seconds. After playing "Be My Love," Don Perazzo told listeners: "Here's what OU girls think of Mario Lanza!" The trio promptly gave out with a long, low swoon.

OU bookie likes mashed potatoes

By Keith Hauver.

Short, squat and oily—that describes one of OU's outstanding sophomores, Jake "Tipster" Schultz. Jake was recently voted Prize Speciman by his sociology class.

Ever since he was a boy at Kearney, Nebr., Jake has wanted to become a bookkeeper. "It's safer all around," he told this reporter. When he isn't studying, or circulating at a baseball game, thirty-year-old Jake can be found in one of OU's halls, keeping his books.

"It ain't like it used to be," Jake likes to reminisce. "Three years back (Jake was a freshman then) a guy could pick up pin money playin' nickel-knock in the shack. Now things is tough."

Jake says his favorite hobby is pulling wings off flies and his favorite food is mashed potatoes and gravy. Any girl is his dream girl, he says, "as long as she ain't bald."

His one big disappointment in college was the ban on cardplaying. Since then Jake has turned to other activities.

"We got a sweet racket called the Professor Parley goin' now," Jake told this reporter.

The Professor Parley, as Jake explains it, goes something like this: on a certain floor of OU every day, players make bets on which professors will get to their rooms last.

"It's got the thrill of horse racing beat by a mile," Jake comments. He types out the scratch sheets

Mixed-up 13 year old advised 'Don't do it!'

Dear Mary Yongk, I am 13½ years-old and the mother of three beautiful children. The father wants me to marry him. What should I do? Frustrated.

No, no, a thousand times no. Don't marry him. Never give in to a man because he thinks he has something on you. I doubt if he would be a good father, you two are probably incompatible. It seems he is only trying to be helpful and perhaps feels he owes you something. Refuse him and find another man.

Dear Mary Youngk, I am afraid I'm an old maid. It is true I am 89½ years-old and have never been married, but I still have young ideas. I have been engaged to a nice man for 56 years, and the other night under a full moon, he asked me to marry him. Should I? Desperate.

Yes, I think you are old enough to consider settling down and starting a new life. This man seems like the perfect mate for you. He is undoubtedly romantic, warm blooded, and affectionate. It is a shame the youth of today do not stop to consider marriage as thoughtfully as you have. Do marry him, and best wishes for many, many years of happy wedded bliss.

Dear Mary Yongk I have a problem. My mother is always picking on me. She says I am a bad girl. She says I am naughty. She says I am too young to go out with Tommy. Tommy lives down the street. I like to smoke, drink whiskey and neck. Mother says an eight-year-old girl shouldn't do these things. Should I obey her? Eager.

Oh, how often these letters come to me. Parents, parents, parents; they will never understand children. Your mother is one of these old fashioned parents who dislike dating. If you feel you have found the man of your choice, then by all means cultivate him. If you need any additional guidance, feel free to call on me.

Dear Mary Youngk, Since I was a child, girls have always frightened me. In fact psychiatrists have and run-downs on past performances—which professors have two successive classes in the same room, which ones favor a muddy hall etc.

"Nothing" crooked at all," Jake says proudly, "We ain't doped one of 'em yet."

Upon graduation "sometime around '58," Jake hopes to go into professional bookkeeping, and later, "if things go right," settle down with a pool room of his own.

The disc jockey we heard . . .

As we write this editorial, we are listening to a disc jockey show over a radio borrowed from a friend. Of course, there's not too much that's new about that. We often listen to the radio and we frequently borrow from friends.

The significant thing about this broadcast involves the announcer. He is an Omaha University student—Tom Slack, to be exact.

And the explanation, of course, is that it's OU's annual KBON Day for speech, radio and journalism students from the university. Some 25 students have taken over operation of the radio station for a day.

Out of this day's experience, they will gain an idea of what professional radio is like. They will know something of what jobs are available and of what talents these jobs take. They will know more about the good and bad of radio—(Along that line, Tom just contributed a Hadeacol commercial.).

But as we were saying—KBON Day provides students with a fine chance to get on-the-job experience, have a lot of fun, and meet a gang of swell people. It is this gang of swell people—the staff of Station KBON—that we want to thank now. The patience, helpfulness and good nature of these individuals is sincerely appreciated by OU students. Thanks again, KBON.

decided I have an inhibition. Now I am 35 years-old, a bachelor and still when I am around women I get butterflies in my stomach. I'm desperate. I don't know what to do. Please help me. Anxious.

I suggest you go to a reputable doctor and have your stomach x-rayed. There is an outside chance you do have butterflies in your stomach. I'm sure your M. D. can prescribe adequate treatment.

Gateway issues call for Makeup Editors

Students interested in becoming Make-up Editors for The Gateway may apply in The Gateway office, room 304.

Any student may apply regardless of major field. Some previous journalism is important, although not necessary. Applicants must have Monday or Thursday afternoons free.

From the middle of nowhere. . .

The following literary effort came into the Gateway's hands in a roundabout way. A pilot at Lackland Air Base, Texas, wrote it while flat on his back in a hospital. An ex-OU student stationed there, Phil Wellman, got a copy and sent it to Doris Armbrust, OU sophomore. It cheered us up so much we thought we'd pass it along:

Airmen's Poem

Down here in the Texas Flathole,
Lackland is the spot,
Fighting a tropical heat wave
In the land that God forgot.
Leaving memories only,
Longing to see our gals—
Hoping that when we return,
They haven't married one of our pals.
Down with the snakes and lizards,
Down where the moon gets blue;
Out in the middle of nowhere—
A thousand miles from You.

No one knows we are living,
No one gives a damn.
Back home we are all forgotten,
For we belong to Uncle Sam.
How we keep on living
Is more than I can understand.
No, we're not convicts,
But defenders of our land.
Four years! How can we stand it?
four years of life we'll miss.
Don't let the draft board get you,
And for God's sake—don't enlist!

We are airmen of the Air Force,
We draw our heard-earned pay.
We live or die to protect our people,
For the grand sum of two and a half a day.
But when the world is over,
We'll get to a place known well.
St. Peter will say: "Here are the men from Lackland.
Let them in, they've served their time in hell!"

Why don't they . . .

Have informal dances in the auditorium every other week to the tune of a jukebox. No refreshments necessary.

Air the lounge every evening to get rid of the stale cigarette smoke that sticks to the walls and chairs in there.

Ever have cokes in the coke machine in the shack?

Make professors return exams for discussion. We'll turn 'em back in, but what good does it do if you can't know what questions were missed. Ventilate the Fore Reading Room. It hasn't had the right odor since they painted it.

Put some of the better magazines on the magazine rack in the library.

Lack of lettermen is baseball problem

Lack of returning lettermen is the plight of baseball coach, Virgil Yelkin.

Robert "Bugs" Redden is the only returning letterman who saw regular duty on the last year's Indian nine. "Bugs" was a peppery second baseman on last year's team.

The rest of the infield from last year's squad was lost for this season. Bob McNutt, who played first base last year, did not report this season. The position is wide open for this year's team.

Besides second base, the Indians are somewhat in the pitching department. Bob Offerjost seems to be heading for the number one mound position. Offerjost, the speedballer from Central High, carried the lead on last year's winning team.

Offerjost will have able support from Roger Bridenbaugh, who also saw action last year, Lynn Hooten and Gary Pennestini, who is up from the Papoose squad.

Two outfielders will have to carry more of the pitching load this year, as Larry Micheels and Bill Duffack are expected to see considerable relief duty for Omaha.

The catching department took a blow as Wayne Malnak, improving number two backstop last year, entered the service. However, Richard Harrison is back, and will probably be the number one man behind the plate.

In the outfield, it seems to be Bob Murray, Johnny Potts who is a regular from last season, Andy Marinkovich, Micheels and Duffack fighting to patrol the gardens.

"This year's team will have a hard time equalling last year's record," said Coach Yelkin. This season's squad appears to be weaker in the hitting department, and slower afoot, according to Yelkin.

"We're going to have a hustling team," commented Yelkin, "and the Indians have been known to play smart baseball in the past."

It seems that the Indians are going to have to hustle and play smart baseball to equal their last season's outstanding record of 12 victories against one setback.

The one defeat last year was to South Dakota State by one run, but the next day, Omaha came back to plaster South Dakota State.

The candidates for the 1951 Indian baseball team have been working out daily in the Fieldhouse, but are unable to practice on a full scale until the basketball floor is taken down this next week.

Coach Yelkin has a tentative three game series set up for spring vacation, so the Indians don't have much time to get set before they see action.

At the present time, there are around 50 candidates battling for varsity positions.

Gals will pick all-star cage team next week

Election of an all-varsity team will be held next week, after the close of the girls' basketball tournament. Table tennis tournaments are scheduled for the first week after spring vacation, and an archery hour is in the making for intramurals.

Up to date, leading scorers for each basketball team are Helen Tiaht, Alpha Xi; Jo Thorson, Chi O; Sarah Garro, Independents; Barbara Pugh, Sigma Kappa; Maxine Kuehl, Unaffiliated I; Barb Wilkerson, Unaffiliated II; and Peggy Money-maker, Zeta Tau.

Girls interested in the archery hour are to sign up in the P. E. Hut. All equipment will be furnished for the 3 to 4 Monday afternoon meet.

Indian hoopsters tally top record; Rose leads team

Sweeping its last six games, Omaha University's cage squad hustled to a 13-10 season record, the best since pre-war days.

This year's Indian team averaged .573 points per game while Omaha opponents managed a .557 median. However, OU foes hit better percentages in both the field goal and free throw departments. In the field goal division, it was .334 to .308 and .573-.561 was the difference in the gift toss category.

Bob Rose chopped scoring laurels with 213 points as Bob Stedman followed with 189. Although playing in only 13 games, Don Clausen's 176 total was good for third place honors.

Stedman's 419 field goal mark was tops for those seeing action in more than ten games. Rose was second with a .353 percentage.

Free throw king was Clausen who cashed 66 out of 91 charity tosses for a .725 clip. Larry Micheels and Don Fitch were runner-ups with .632 and .609 respectively.

Clausen also claimed the highest point average with a 13.6 final. This time Bob Rose was second on a 9.3 mark and Stedman's 8.2 grabbed the consolation spot.

Joe Arenas was the "badman" on the Indian ledger. His 67 fouls were high again Rose and Stedman with 59 and 58 apiece.

Papooses finish with 10-6 campaign mark

Ernie Flecky's debut as Papoose coach was an impressive one, as the junior varsity finished the season with a 10-6 slate.

Larry Johnson, hefty pivot man, led scoring with 152 points. Bob Chapman and Tom Mosiman were runner-ups with 103 and 101 markers respectively.

Papooses also seeing varsity action this season include, Chapman and Mosiman, Bob Moscrey, Keith Christie, and Herb Sklenar.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 14...THE BEAVER

"How eager can they get?"

For once in his life, our fervent friend admits that eagerness can be over-done! He's alluding, of course, to all these quick-trick cigarette tests—the ones that ask you to decide on cigarette mildness after just one puff, one sniff, one inhale or one exhale! When the chips are down, he realizes cigarette mildness can't be judged in a hurry. That's why he made . . .

The sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why . . .

Blackstone Hotel will be scene for 'Circus Capers' tonight for Greeks and dates at 9

Phi Ep's will follow theme in decoration
The Blackstone Hotel ballroom will be the scene for the "Circus Capers" dance tonight.

The dance is being presented by Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, from 9 p. m. to midnight. Greeks and their dates have been invited to dance to the music of Ray Bachman and his orchestra. The "Circus Capers" is informal.

The decorations will center around the circus motive. The ceiling of the ballroom will have a canvas tent top with scalloped edges on the side. Nets, ropes and bars will be hung from the ceiling as trampolines.

Guests will enter the ballroom through a doorway decorated as a lion's mouth. A clown carrying balloons will hand out favors at the door. Decorations on the walls will consist of pictures of circus animals.

The dance floor will be shaped as a circus ring to complete the effect. At intermission there will be a short skit following the circus theme.

Alumni of Phi Epsilon Pi and members of the OU faculty will also be guests of the fraternity. Leonard Lefitz is in charge of the annual affair. He will also be master of ceremonies. His committee consists of Paul Saltzman, poster arrangements, Jerry Roistein, publicity; Harvey Cooper, decorations; Norman Goldenberg, entertainment, and Warren Denenberg and Sam Fried, invitations.

Faculty sponsors will be Mr. and Mrs. William T. Utley, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brock, Mr. and Mrs. George DeWitt and Mr. Leonard Weiner.

Business whirl—

Phi Theta Chi will be organized at OU

Phi Theta Chi is being organized on the OU campus for women registered in Business Administration. This includes women taking secretarial courses and others in the business field.

Women interested are invited to attend the first meeting of the group next Wednesday at 8 p. m. The room will be announced in Tuesday's issue of the Gateway. The only other requirement for membership is that applicants must have at least the regular school average.

Miss Leta Holley will be the sponsor for the organization. She is also helping organize the group. Miss Holley announced the constitution has been approved by the faculty and needs acceptance by the members.

Faculty News

The faculty will present another square dance tonight at 7 p. m. in the Omaha University auditorium.

Tuesday the Faculty Women's Club will meet for a luncheon in room 100 at noon. Thursday the Faculty Men's Club will meet for their luncheon at noon in room 100 also.

Last Wednesday the faculty women met for a luncheon and yesterday the faculty men met at noon for a luncheon.

The Town and Gown will meet on March 15 at 6:30 p. m. in room 101. Dr. Marcus Bach, head of the University of Iowa School of Religion, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "What is Happening on Church Street, U. S. A." The University of Omaha Regents will be the guests of the club.

Theta's to elect new officers Monday eve

Theta Phi Delta will hold an election of officers at their meeting Monday evening at the university.

Eight positions are to be filled. Nominations were made at the group's business meeting Tuesday night.

Candidates for president and vice president are Dick Beem, Jim Daley, Joe Malec and Ben Tobias. For secretary, the nominees are Don Chase, Bob Hanson and Eldon Steele. Candidates for treasurer include Louie Anderson, Walt Nabity, Gary Penisten and Bill Ryan.

Other offices and candidates are as follows: pledgemaster; Ben Butler, Bob Hansen and Joe Mayer; sergeant at arms: Charles Platt and Wally Wright; intermural director; Bernie Anderson, Gary Anderson and Bob Russell.

Don Holmberg, Bob Keim and Douglas Wright are candidates for the post of Theta Phi Delta's representative to the Inter-fraternity Council.

Mr. R. Wayne Wilson is Theta's new faculty sponsor. He replaces Mr. Hodge Doss who left for active duty in the armed services on March 5. The fraternity members presented Mr. Doss with a gift before his departure.

Following the nominating procedure Tuesday, plans for Ma-ie Day activities were discussed and fraternity song practice was held.

Sigma Pi Phi's plan Monday dinner meet

Sigma Pi Phi, organization for Future Teachers of America, will hold a dinner meeting in the east cafeteria Monday from 5 to 7 p. m.

Dr. Edythe Hall, Principal of Kellom School, will talk on "Current Legislation in Education." Dr. Hall previously spoke at the university on Vocations Day at the elementary education seminar.

Don Sarooian, program chairman, will introduce Dr. Hall. All interested students are invited to attend.

Plans for the initiation of new members will also be discussed. Memberships will be closed March 18.

Sigma Kappa will give a party tonight at the home of Donna and Marilyn Hayes. The party is in honor of the pledges who will be activated tomorrow afternoon.

The formal initiation will take place at the Paxton Hotel at 8 p. m. A banquet will follow at 6:30 p. m. Pat Johanssen is in charge of arrangements for the banquet and Marilyn Hayes is in charge of the program. Members of the sorority will wear white formals, the tradition for Sigma Kappa.

The speakers at the banquet will be Mrs. Lois Lucas, alumni; Ruth Lane, senior; Joanne Pierce, pledge; and Mrs. Mildred Gearhart, advisor. Nancy Spring, president, will be the mistress of ceremonies.

At the Wednesday night meeting a representative of Mason Lorenzo Beauty Salon will give a demonstration and talk. Two of the sorority members, Marilyn Everett and Lois Disney, also gave a talk on social etiquette. A formal meeting was held following the talks.

Alpha Xi Delta's give reports on Ma-ie Day

Committee reports highlighted the Alpha Xi Delta regular meeting Wednesday night. The 6:30 meeting was held in the Student Center.

Syntha Judd and Donna Miller reported on plans for the skit for Ma-ie Day. Mary Ann Herrin told the group the ideas which the float committee had suggested.

Charlotte Longville and Joyce Erdkamp told of plans for Founders' Day, April 17.

Mrs. Louise Sutton, alumnae advisor, made a report on the alumnae meeting Tuesday night.

Five committees set for April alum dance

Committees have been named for the annual Alumni Lang Syne Dance, which will be held in the main ballroom of the Fontenelle Hotel April 7. Bill Fear is general chairman.

Charles Ammons, Walter Graham, Bob Rausek, and Jo Rispler serve on the Printing and Publicity Committee. Chairman of the Alumni Fraternity and Sorority Contact Committee is Bill Schultz. Jim Ross is chairman of entertainment.

Irish theme set for annual Greek dance

Theta Chi's arrange initiation for Sunday

Delta Zeta chapter of Theta Chi fraternity will initiate ten new members into the active chapter in ceremonies Sunday at the home of Roger Cross, marshal.

Larry Brehm, Ed Berney, Hal Davenport, Ed Kolar, Dale Koutsky and Arnold Kriegler are among those to be initiated. Others include Bob Satrapa, Rudy Vancura, Don West and Bob Williams.

The formal activation will be followed by a social hour. Refreshments consisting of pie and coffee will be served at this time. Sponsors for the event will be Mr. Bruce Linton, Mr. George Pritchard and Mr. J. Lee Weststrate.

Coming social events for the Theta Chi's include a party and dance with Zeta Tau Alpha on March 20 and an anniversary banquet with the alumni on April 13.

ODK will meet today, plan April convention

Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary fraternity for senior men, will meet at noon today in room 100.

They plan to take the final count of members who will attend the national convention in St. Louis, April 12, 13 and 14. Instructions will also be given to the elected delegate, Ed Klima.

St. Patrick's Day will be greeted in full swing at Chi Omega's second annual "Shamrock Shuffle" next Friday evening.

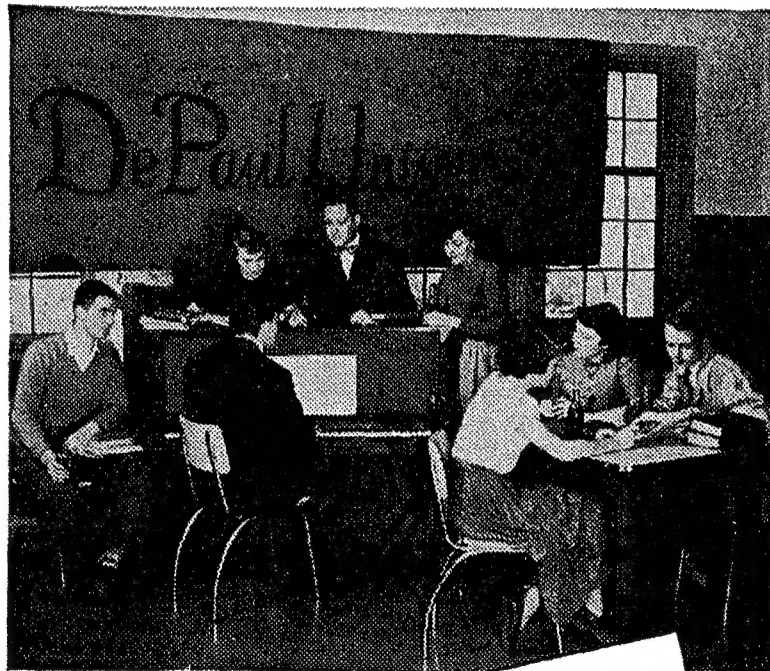

The Chi O's have invited all Greeks to attend the dance from 9 p. m. to midnight at the Carter Lake Club. Eddy Haddad and his orchestra will furnish the music.

The dance is a strictly informal affair. The girls are asked to wear skirts and sweaters. Everyone is requested to wear something green if at all possible. Each member of Chi Omega will wear a white carnation.

The ballroom decorations will follow the St. Patrick's Day theme. Large shamrocks composed of glittery green and white balloons will adorn the sides of the dance floor, and life-sized figures of Irish boys and girls will stand by the stage.

Favors will be given to each couple attending the dance. Intermission entertainment will feature a skit in keeping with the Irish theme. Two door prizes will also be awarded.

Ann Williams will head the skit committee. Other committees are: Marilyn Middleton, decorations; Maggie Claeson, Joan Haven and Marilyn Mellam, general program. Donna Edstrand is over-all chairman for the dance.
